Reducing Costs to Parents – School Uniforms

Circular 0063/2013.

Purpose of this Circular

The Minister for Education and Skills has moved to tackle the costs of school uniforms by strengthening the role of parents in how schools decide their policies on uniforms.

Where schools have a uniform, parents must meet the costs, which may vary from school to school. The Minister for Education and Skills considers it appropriate, therefore, that any school that currently has a uniform (as distinct from a general dress code), or is contemplating the introduction of one, should consult parents. Schools may also wish to engage with students, where a Student Council exists, and with the Parent Association, where one exists.

The Minister is requesting school authorities concerned to use the questionnaire at Appendix 1 to carry out a consultation with parents over the course of the current school year, and in time to allow the Board of Management consider the outcome and make changes, where warranted, that could apply from September next.

The questionnaire, which has been developed in consultation with the education partners, gives parents an opportunity to respond to two main questions. The first is to simply ascertain if parents want the wearing of a uniform, where it exists, to continue. The second question applies where a parent favours a uniform. It asks the parent to indicate a preference around what may be termed generic uniforms as opposed to bespoke designs. This question is aimed at identifying whether parents favour changes to uniforms that could reduce costs and make uniforms more affordable.

While this circular is of particular relevance to schools that currently have a uniform, or are contemplating introducing one from September next, the questionnaire should also assist other schools in consulting parents in later years where the introduction of a uniform is being considered by the Board of Management.

The Department suggests that questionnaires be sent to parents by February 2014 before deciding on the position to be adopted for the 2014/15 school year. The Board of Management should consider the information in returned questionnaires, and let parents know the outcome. Parents are not required to sign ballots, and schools are obviously free to identify outgoing ballot papers, if they wish, by means of a stamp or other distinguishing feature.
